Welcome to BOCES

Traci Countryman, Assistant Director

Everyone has a purpose and the strengths and abilities to achieve success. I am new to BOCES, but not new to growth. My goal is to help every person I work with launch an exciting and enriching path to success. As the Assistant Director, I look forward to the opportunity to sit down with each student and advise him or her on career and class choices. I took this position to make a difference in student's lives. I love people and enjoy being a part of each student's life path through encouragement and guidance. Never be afraid to learn something new!

Originally from Missouri, I have lived in Wyoming since 2004. The scenery and sunshine as well as the slower pace of the West is what keeps us here. I am a life-long learner and love a good challenge. My family is most important and all my free time is spent with them or at Yoga ;)
