WWCC Registration

Western Wyoming Community College's first day of registration is November 14 for the 2018 Spring Semester. By registering early you increase your chances of getting into classes you want to take. We are accepting advising appointments for the Spring 2018 semester. Please stop by the BOCES to schedule an appointment. If you are a first time student please call for details of the necessary documents that are needed to enroll. If you are a high school student interested in taking Dual Enrollment classes, now is the time for you to talk to Cynthia Platt, the Guidance Counselor at Kemmerer High School.

We look forward to helping you get registered!

November BOCES Blocks

(Building a foundation through community education & skill sets)

ED2GO non-credit classes.

Update your skills, discover a new talent, or chart a new career path at your own pace and at your convenience!

Our instructor-facilitated online courses are informative, fun, convenient and highly interactive. All courses run for six weeks (with a two-week grace period at the end). Courses are project oriented and include lessons, quizzes, hands-on assignments, discussion areas, supplementary links and more.

How to Get Started:

1. Visit our Online Instruction Center at: www.ed2go.com/kemmoutreach
2. Click the Orientation link and follow the instructions to enroll and pay for your course. You will also be provided an opportunity to choose the name and password you will use to access your online course. This step is critical! You cannot access your course until you complete orientation.
3. When your course starts, return to our Online Instruction Center and click the Classroom link. To begin your studies, simply log in with the name and password you provided during orientation.

Featured ED2GO Classes:

Building Teams That Work

Teams are becoming a staple in today's workplace. In this course, you'll learn the components of a successful team and the stages of its development. You'll master the skills you'll need to effectively manage projects, make decisions, and solve problems in a team setting. Plus, you'll have a chance to learn the pitfalls of unhealthy group interaction and minimize any of its effects on your team.

Along the way, you'll follow real-life examples and scenarios to help you identify with the team-building process. There's a lot more to it than just getting a number of people together in a room at the same time. Are you eager to develop your leadership qualities and be a quality team participant? Many of today's teams rotate leadership roles, so it's crucial to understand both perspectives as you learn the best ways to communicate and work together for positive change.

Creating Classroom Centers

Discover how easy and effective classroom centers can really be! In this course, you'll learn how to create and implement activities that boost independent learning in the classroom.

You'll start out by learning what centers are (and aren't), what benefits they offer, and how to make the most of them. Next, you'll explore some very common mistakes teachers make with centers and gain tips for keeping your planning time to a minimum. You'll also get step-by-step instructions for creating a centers schedule all your students can use independently—even if they can't read. The insights you'll gain will show you how to adjust your centers routine for both your fastest learners and those who need more time.

Short on classroom space? You'll get great ideas for storing your centers and explore some alternatives to having a permanent spot for every center. You'll master an easy, effective process for introducing centers and their materials to your students, and develop strategies for what to do when things don't go quite as planned.

Increased small-group instruction time is one of the biggest benefits of centers, and you'll explore the kinds of instruction you can pursue during centers time.

Think centers can only be used for reading and language arts? Think again! We'll explore ideas for using centers to support instruction in math, science, and social studies. You'll also see how you can use technology (such as virtual bulletin boards, apps, and interactive white boards) in your centers to help keep your students engaged. By the time you finish the course, you'll not only have the knowledge you need to get the most out of centers—you'll have a wealth of resources and center ideas you can take and try so you can get started right away!
